PLANNING ENFORCEMENT

A One-Day Conference being held on TUESDAY 19 MAY 2009
In the COUNCIL CHAMBER,
ST ALBANS DISTRICT COUNCIL OFFICES,
ST PETER'S STREET, ST ALBANS, AL1 3JE

The enforcement of planning regulations is a continual topic of concern with councillors, the public and in the press. Very often it is caused by a misunderstanding of what powers are available and of the checks and balances built into the process. This conference aims to explore the powers available to a Council, how it might more efficiently and effectively exercise them, some of the constraints to progress and how a Council might address these.

This Conference, being held in association with NAPE, will be of interest to planning enforcement officers and those working within development management. Elected members may also find it useful.

Previous enforcement conferences have been very popular and, with limited spaces available, early booking is advised.

This is also an opportunity to visit one of Britain's most historic towns whose origins date from Roman times when it was known as Verulamium.
