COASTS: PLANNING FOR CHANGE

A One-Day Conference being held on TUESDAY 6 OCTOBER 2009
at the IP-CITY CENTRE, 1 BATH STREET
IPSWICH, SUFFOLK, IP2 8SD

Having been through a long period in the policy neglect, coastal areas are now rising up the agenda as they are increasingly recognised to be subject to major inevitable natural change and economic pressures.

This conference will discuss national initiatives and policy issues, the new PPS20, further guidance on PPS25, and the Defra coastal adaptation package and how this relates to the East of England Coastal Initiative Package. Speakers will discuss current coastal strategy work, the challenges of the Thames Gateway/Thames Estuary, and the regeneration of a coastal town.

Snapshots of how organisations are dealing with some of the issues relating to coastal managements, flood risk and associated issues will be covered during the afternoon session.

This conference is part of a programme of events for all the built environment professionals in the East of England, sponsored by Inspire East. They will help you learn alongside colleagues from other professions and develop the skills to deliver sustainable communities. See <http://www.inspire-east.org.uk>, Events & Training, for more details.

2009 Joint CPD Events Programme

Inspire East and Construction Industry Council Members have developed a programme of events for all the built environment professionals in the region. They will help you learn alongside colleagues from other professions and develop the skills to deliver sustainable communities.

Costing Sustainability

Think 'green' matters don't apply to you? This event will address the costs and considerations of sustainability from the regional economic overview through to implementation. It will show that legislation and client demand will open up a new market and make it essential to consider sustainability throughout the entire property lifecycle. Ignoring sustainability can leave a project at a disadvantage in the market, reducing its value.

Date: 21st May 2009

Venue: Wellcome Trust Conference Centre, Hixton, Cambridge CB10 1RQ

Time: 8.30 - 1.00 (Including Lunch)

To Book: Book online with a credit or debit card at www.rics.org/east

Cost: RICS members and members of CIC East affiliated professional bodies: £60;
RICS non member: £72; Concessions: £48

Combating Climate Change

All building professionals can play an integral part in combating climate change through the provision of low carbon new buildings and building refurbishments. This event will provide guidance on the principles, tools, techniques and client relationships necessary to design and deliver low carbon buildings. Speakers: Sunand Prasad, President RIBA and founding commissioner of CABE; Julian Marsh, Marsh, Grochowski Architects.

Date: 16th July 2009

Venue: Murray Edwards College, Cambridge

Time: 1.15 - 5.00 pm

To Book: Contact Jayne Ransom, 01223 566285, jayne.ransom@inst.riba.org

Cost: RIBA Members £62; CPD Subscription Members £46.50; Others £75. All fees subject to VAT
