

PIPA - the RTPI Politicians in Planning Network Business Plan 2009 Quarter 3 Progress

Aim of the Network

Politicians are at the core of a democratic planning system. PIPA aims to support co-operative working between professionals and politicians to achieve the most effective planning outcomes. PIPA has enormous potential to have an influence on national decision-making. It also has a strong role to play in helping politicians adjust to changes required by introduction of new planning systems.

Key objectives of the Network

- Raising the profile and understanding of professional planning amongst people who are engaged in planning from a political perspective
- Providing a vehicle for all those involved in democratic planning to come together to build knowledge and exchange information and experiences
- Providing a sounding board to further develop and improve democratic planning practice
- Providing a 'one stop shop' signposting service of professional planning information for all those involved in democratic planning within the UK

Actions

Survey yet to be circulated; approach discussed with Marketing Officer. Post Conference initiative.
Set up a targeted task group on the basis of the feedback from the Local Authority survey	April 2009	Members volunteering to attend set-up meetings; NM co-ordination and contributions.	To follow survey.
Provide intelligence to the RTPI Policy Staff by identifying forthcoming issues and arranging joint activities as appropriate	On-going throughout 2009	Member contributions; NM co-ordination	All 2009 PIPA Network events had Policy presence and helped to develop thinking and/or submissions.
Build co-operation with other organisations with shared interests by inviting their contributions to/participation in events whilst avoiding duplication	On-going throughout 2009	Member contributions; NM co-ordination	As noted above co-operative effort with LGA initially thwarted. Relations with NALC continue to be productive. Parties involve in the 2009 Conference.

Objective four: Providing a 'one stop shop' signposting service of professional planning information for all those involved in democratic planning within the UK

Action	When	Resources required	Q3 Progress
Populate the website with comprehensive resources adding a new information topic each month.	Monthly	Member contributions; Sift co-operation and IT support as required	Some new topic areas and content added, including a Climate Change page.
In conjunction with Members and Planning Aid, to contribute Planning 'Surgeries' at Conferences and other appropriate events	As per 2009 programme	Network banner and fliers; place for NM	This worked well at NALC Conference 2008 but there are no equivalents (yet) for 2009.

Additional resources required

- 11.5 hours per week of professional staff time.
- £500 financial resources for member expenses

Prospects

PIPA will play a major role in the RTPI's aim to put planning at the heart of local government. PIPA will continue to build relationships with the key politicians in planning to raise its profile and co-operation with professionals. 2010 or thereabouts can be expected to be an election year and through its Members PIPA can help to ensure a priority for planning issues in manifesto commitments.
