HERITAGE ASSETS AND PLACE MAKING

A One-Day Conference being held on THURSDAY 14 OCTOBER 2010

In the THE KEMPEN ROOM, THE MALTINGS,
SHIP LANE, ELY, CAMBS., CB7 4BB

Six months after the new PPS5: Planning for the Historic Environment, this joint conference provides an opportunity to look at the impact of the PPS on understanding place, new development in Conservation Areas, and master-planning for redevelopment projects. Speakers will illustrate the importance of context and history, and the way in which new developments can enhance a feeling of place.

There will be an opportunity to look around Ely – with good examples of integrating new development in an historic environment - and to hear about and see examples of Historic Area Appraisals and a range of developments from public realm improvements to redevelopment and new development in historic townscapes and landscapes.

The conference will be of interest to planners, conservation officers, architects and developers.
