ICN Discussion Forum User Protocol

- To send a message to the group, email the address given to you by the network manager when you sign up.

- Clearly identify the subject area in the message title. Avoid using non-specific headings such as 'Help!' or 'Is it me?'

- Forum members are asked to be respectful of other members' enquiries, as the forum is used by both established consultants and those who have recently started in private practice.

- Do not attack a person or idea. Keep all comments constructive and respectful. If you want to praise or criticise, give examples as to why it is good or bad.

- Do not post anything that is unlawful, threatening, libelous, defamatory, obscene, scandalous, inflammatory, pornographic, or anything else that could give rise to any civil or criminal liability under the law.

- Do not post advertisements, whether openly or disguised, including job advertisements.

- Keep it legal, decent, honest and truthful, and we won't go far wrong!

- RTPI staff may also use the forum on an infrequent basis to survey the views of forum members.